CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY.

A beautiful and growing little city of 2,000 inhabitants, situated on the Ohio river, 110 miles from Louisville by water, and 75 miles by rail. The largest town in the county. Breckinridge with a population of over 20,000. Area 230 acres, and 1,000 acres more available for manufacturing sites outside city limits. She has one bank, one newspaper, a commercial club, six churches, four high schools, flouring mill, planing mill and saw mill, two express companies, telegraph, telephone and proposed water works, natural gas, low taxes and liberal inducements to manufacturers; seven tobacco warehouses, brick yards, the best cement and limestone quarries and an inexhaustible supply of the finest plate glass in the world. Poplar and white oak timber in abundance and floated to our docks by Clarksburg and sinking creek. Cane and timber lands reached by coal road eight miles long. Real estate low and rents cheap. Liberal inducements to manufacturers. Fine opening for woolen mills, glass factories, pottery, wagon factory, furniture factory or any kind of manufacturing enterprise. Situation high, dry and healthful.

Cloverport is not in the least alarmed by her outside surroundings. She has a brighter future today than she ever had.

Mr. Dan O'Heilly, of Leitchfield, has been acquitted of the charges perpetrated against him in the United States Court at Louisville.

Mr. Beck has introduced a bill in the United States Senate, authorizing the erection of a public building at Paris, Ky. at a cost of $250,000.

Beck and Gov. Buckner voted two bills for him, Representative Tipton, of Owensboro, packed his grip and left for home, arriving here about noon and returning to Frankfort.

The Members of the Legislature adjourned last week, to take a recess. This time to Lexington to inspect the A. and M. College. They returned to Frankfort Saturday.

Two heavy rain storms last week were very destructive to property in some parts of the State. In Western Kentucky a number of barns and farm buildings were blown down and several persons were seriously injured.

Col. A. H. Allen, of Hardinsburg, has been appointed Census Supervisor for the Second Kentucky District. The position is an important one, and Col. Allen is appointing his subordinates to do the work well, and will choose none but competent and reliable men.

The following supervisors of the Census for Kentucky have been appointed by the President: First district, N. B. Chambers. Second, Alfred Allen. Third, John Woodhead. Fourth, Edward C. Orin. Fifth, H. H. Ward. Sixth, T. C. Wells. These complete the list for Kentucky.

The New York World, with the aid of figures obtained from the census, has compiled a list of the wealth of the country, showing a marvelous increase since 1880. The actual wealth of the country at present is the enormous sum of $41,450,000,000.

Honors Washington, a negro who was assaulted and then murdered a nine-year old girl, confessed his crime and was hung at Madison, Ky. last week. While he was telling how the child pleaded for life when he was cutting her throat with a dull knife several members of the jury took out their knives to kill him.

Two makers of artificial ice will no doubt reap a big harvest the coming summer. Not for a long number of years has there been such a winter in this country as the one which is about winding to a close. There has not been a ground of ice put up, consequently the manufactured article will be in big demand, and it will come high too.

The Court of Appeals in an opinion by Judge Bennett has decided the cases of the Commonwealth vs. Tate and his associates. The first case involves the official bond of $2 and $3, for $63, $19.91 and the second, the official bond and bonds of 1886 to 1888, for $252,268.81. The decision is that the statutes must prove its case before a jury.

The projectors of the new Tar Springs should lose no time now in pushing their work on this property to completion. It is one of the best properties in the county for a summer resort and with the improvements to be made, will be one of the most attractive. Our people are standing very much in their own light if they do not see to it that this enterprise is completed, and that too at an early date. Cloverport will be largely benefited by the building up of these springs.

JUDGE HUMPHREY'S SPEECH.

The speech of Judge Alex. P. Humphrey, of Louisville, delivered before the Southern Society in New York on the 23d instant, at their annual dinner, in celebration of Washington's birthday, is a most excellent one, and marks him as a man of thought and far reaching vision.

It is full of striking expressions which inspire and convict the reader at once. "The Union," he says, "is not a territorial integrity, it is a moral one." But the kind of Union which has force for its hands of iron and armed power, and its fetters of brass, may unite the countries of Spain, or the Ireland of Cromwell to the Island of Cromwell, but it is far removed from that more perfect union which our fathers ordained and established. The purposes and hopes of the more perfect union, were to establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty for ourselves and our posterity.

Judge Humphrey goes on to argue that a policy where "military commanders dictated what should be Governors of States, and a squad of soldiers guided the election, and qualifications of successive legislatures, with one half of this republic free and the other half a body of military slaves," can in no sense be, "more perfect union to establish justice, secure domestic tranquility, and to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

He refers to the Supreme Court, which in the dark days of reconstruction proved to be the bulwark of a great rock in a weary land, with Titus bawling about the shackles forged for states and people. "Gone is the past that would have been the pride and the glory of the nation. The people and the slave of the South are in abundance and floated to our docks by Clarksburg and sinking creek. Cane and timber lands reached by coal road eight miles long. Real estate low and rents cheap. Liberal inducements to manufacturers. Fine opening for woolen mills, glass factories, pottery, wagon factory, furniture factory or any kind of manufacturing enterprise. Situation high, dry and healthful."

With regard to the present situation, he thinks, the lessons of reconstruction are to be regarded no less than the lessons of the Civil War. ## LOUISIANA PATE LET ANOTHER BATCH OF PRISONERS OUT OF JAIL MONDAY.

The Democratic of this county will see to it that Logan goes out the first Monday in August.

In one of the Eastern States it is reported that gold bullion is being hoarded for a time. In view of the fact that there is already a larger number of money than men in this country, such business as this should be stopped immediately if not sooner.

The subject of surplus is still receiving the undivided attention of the Republicans in Congress. It is not so much a question of how to get rid of the surplus as it is how to prevent its being used up altogether. The Republicans have endorsed so many schemes for legislation that if half of them are carried out there will be no surplus to talk about.

The following is what the Court-Journal says of one candidate for the Constitutional Convention:

Among those the suggestion of whose name for member of the forthcoming Constitutional Convention, has aroused general favor, and no opposition, is that of Hon. John Allen Murray, of Breckinridge. Judge Murray is not only a popular man and a good Democrat, but he is also a man of high character and a man of high ability. His value to the body which is to revise our organic law, is altogether exceptional. We take it that he will be elected by the unanimous vote of the body, and to secure his election, we claim to its confidence, or the consideration of the public as this eminent jurist and citizen.

The Wheelers have gotten into this county at last, but the Wheelers are a wheel within themselves and appear to be a body in itself. We have heard of several meetings at the country school houses out in the county, but they have been quiet and orderly that we have been said concerning them. Truly we do not know what the organization has in view, but one thing is certain: they can all come in and take a chance in our big drawing next January and we will not be any the wiser for it.

The amendments to the original charter of the I. & W. railroad, which that company is trying to get through the Legislature, are meeting with objections from the people of Hardinsburg. They claim that the company has not built the road agreeably to contract, and would not allow any amendments to be made to the charter, which will enable them to collect the tax of $80,000, if in their power to prevent it. When the Company brings its road through the Legislature, it should after awhile call upon us as one of our county subscribers, there will be no opposition to the collection of the interest on the bonds.

Two News-stands of all its competitors in this locality in getting before the public in an appreciable way. Not only do we give you a paper worth twice what we ask for it, but we will distribute among our subscribers that same paper in valuable presents. One two-horse wagon, one gold watch, one handsome set of antique oak furniture are some of the desirable articles appearing in the list of our county subscribers will be possessors of these articles before the year closes. Certainly now is the time to subscribe.

GO. BUCKNER in a late supplemental message to the Legislature has given some very sound views on the character of bank legislation now being enacted. He directs our attention to the fact that the directors of the matter and the enactment of such legislation is not remedied it is likely to lead to great financial disaster. He declines to approve any such bills now before the Senate until some remedial legislation is enacted. Below we submit a part of the Governor's message on this important subject. He says:

Amongst the bills now before the Executive for consideration is one which requires a payment of 25 per cent. of the capital before the stock of the company, and an additional capital of $50,000, are each required to pay only $10,000, and the bill which is an amendment to the existing charter, and which converts a different institution into a bank without the payment of any portion of the stock and with the privilege of general acceptance of the stock of the company. There is here a very serious requirement to pay any portion of the stock of the company, and the institution organized on such a basis there is no security for a depositor.

A somewhat sensational and probably false shooting took place in Washington last Friday in Capitol building. Mr. Charles E. Kincaid, the Washington correspondent of the Louisville Times, shot in the face, the Hon. Pres. Taubee, ex-Representative in Congress. There had been some trouble between the two men for some time, which brought up the trouble. Two years ago Mr. Taubee was a member of Congress. He was in the habit of calling at the Patent Office Department last Friday before the Senate. He was shot, and upon one of the clerks watching him one day, it was discovered that Taubee and one of the female clerks were in the habit of taking themselves to a restaurant near the Capitol, and there indulging in love scenes that were rather warmer than were proper. The facts were told to Kincaid, and he published them in his paper. Kincaid and Mr. Taubee, who is a married man, was somewhat of a friend. The fact that he had been a Methodist preacher caused special attention to the scandal. Mr. Taubee has his seat in Congress, and there indulging in love scenes that were rather warmer than were proper. The facts were told to Kincaid, and he published them in his paper. ## IT IS NO DISGRACE

To be poor, but, as "Jones" says, it's mighty inconvenient! "Jones" comes pretty near the truth. We have to some extent robbed "poverty of its sting," by selling the best of Clothing in the city at such remarkably low prices that the poor man can dress as well as the rich man.

For the past few weeks we have been doing business for the accommodation of the public. We adopted this plan in order to push our Winter Stock of Suits and Overcoats. We have made a big hole in our stock, and while we have made no money, thank the people for their liberal patronage. The time is drawing near, however, when we must bring forward our new Spring Stock, which we have been manufacturing for some time.

Before we do that, the remainder of our superb Suits and Overcoats go at the same cut-rate prices. Now is the time to buy a Suit or Overcoat for next winter.

Our friend Will E. Pool, in the interest of J. M. Robinson, Louisville, spent a few days in town last week, and his visits all were most enjoyable.
Mr. John Muselman has moved his family near to Sinking creek hill so as to be convenient to attend the water tank on the L. & H. W. railroad, which he has charge of.

Quite a number of people were in town Saturday, and among them we noticed W. Williams, of Basin Spring; R. M. Jolly, Irvington; and Ed Bennett, of Homer Set.

The cold wave has come and there must be truth in the ground hog adage. He came out and saw his shadow and returned, and it seems that old winter has put on its ugliest garb.

Coughing

Is Nature's effort to expel foreign substances from the bronchial passages. Frequently, this causes inflammation and the need of an anodyne. No other expectorant or anodyne is equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It assists Nature in ejecting the mucus, allays irritation, induces repose, and is the most popular of all cough cures.

"Of the many preparations before the public for the cure of colds, coughs, bronchitis, and kindred ailments, there is none within the range of my experience so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For years I was subject to colds, followed by terrible coughs. About ten years ago, when so afflicted, I was advised to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and to lay all other remedies aside. I did so, and within a week was well of my cold and cough. Since then I have always kept this preparation in the house, and feel convinced that it will cure any cough."—Mrs. L. B. Brown, Denmark, Me.

"A few years ago I took a severe cold which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up, but I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded the rest necessary for recovery of my strength. By the continual use of the Pectoral, a permanent cure was effected."—Harris Fairbrother, Rockingham, Vt.

They have torn down his corn crib and stable, leaving him in a terrible shape. He ordered the surveyors off by the shotgun remedy, has been brought out to the peace and has brought suit against the McCrackens for damages.—Kentucky Colonel.

The Other Side.

TONSPORT, Ind., Feb. 24, 1890.

I noticed in the News of February 15th an article concerning the punishment of a pupil (Sam Groves) at the Tonsport school, by the assistant teacher. I wish to correct a few misstatements in that article.

First, that there were thirteen deep cuts on the boy's body, is false.

Second, that a farmer who happened to be near and saw the boy from being beaten to death, is also a falsehood. Mr. Chas. Weatherhead is the farmer and hero who has caused such a stir, and at the risk of his life, saved that of the boy. Mr. Weatherhead told the witch and saw the boy punished, but was quite a distance from the scene. So it is clear that he did not interfere.

Third, it is claimed that the boy was sick and raving for several days from the effects of the punishment. The boy was sick during the night following the punishment, but he had been sick several times before that whipping and will probably be sick again during his life. It does not necessarily follow that he was sick from the effects of the whipping. But the writer of that piece meant to leave the impression that his raving was caused by the effects of the punishment beyond a doubt, congratulating himself in the thought that he had a stain upon the character of a fellow creature.

That boy has been very unkind for some time, cursing the teacher and calling her by names that would not look well on passing wrapping paper she read of King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith, Ark. Trial of this wonderful Discovery. For a G. W. Short's, Cleveland, Ky., and J. A. Witt's, Hardinsburg, Ky.

Measuring.

The earliest account known of an instrument for measuring the heat or cold of the atmosphere is that noticed by the "Spiritalist" of Herculano 120 B. C. The instrument in the tube was suggested by Halley, about 1607, and first practically carried out by Fahrenheit, a native of Danzig, at the time his invention was completed an instrument maker at Amsterdam. He divided the space between the freezing and boiling points of water into 180 degrees, and commenced the graduation of his scale at the point to which the mercury fell when the bulb was treated with ice and melted ice. The scale was termed "zero." It is a generally received idea that the zero point on the Fahrenheit thermometer was named in honor of his son, responding to the lowest degree of cold known to him.
